

A clean version of the replacement claim is submitted below. Please enter the claim.

40. An in vivo polynucleotide delivery device for applying pressure to mammalian skin, comprising: a cuff described by the process of applying the cuff over mammalian skin to impede blood flow thereby increasing delivery efficiency of the polynucleotide to a mammalian cell.